

A photograph of a restaurant setting. In the foreground, a dark grey plate holds a generous portion of fish and chips. The fish is a large, golden-brown battered fillet, and the chips are thick-cut and also golden. To the right of the fish is a small salad of shredded purple and orange cabbage with green leafy vegetables. A lemon wedge is placed on top of the salad. In the background, a glass of beer with a thick head of foam is visible on the right, and a light-colored cloth is on the left. The entire scene is set on a white marble table.
